

ACCELERATED PARAMEDIC PROGRAM APPLICATION PACKET

COURSE CONTENT

The Pelham Training Paramedic Program is an Indiana State approved EMT-Paramedic Program including approximately 400 hours of academic learning and minimum of 600 hours of concurrent clinical experience. During your paramedic education you will become certified in Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS), Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS), and Prehospital Trauma Life Support (PHTLS). At the completion of your paramedic training, you will be eligible to sit for the National Registry of EMT's Paramedic Exam.

COURSE DURATION

The Pelham Training Paramedic Program is limited to those applicants who are currently EMT-Basic certified. Employment experience as a certified EMT is preferred.

The program starts August 30, 2010 with a completion date of December 11, 2010. Class will meet Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 8am-6pm and on Wednesday from 8am-9pm. The paramedic program is divided into 8 courses.

- Anatomy and Physiology
- P100-Preparatory
- P200-Medical Emergencies 1
- P300-Medical Emergencies 2
- P400-Trauma
- P500-Operations
- P600-Comprehensive Review Course
- F100-Clinical Phase
- F200-Field Internship

Students must pass each course within the program with a 75% as their final grade to graduate from the program. Students must also complete each course while maintaining an acceptable clinical pace as outlined in the F100/F200 Clinical Phase/Field Internship Handbook. Clinical experience will be gained concurrently with affiliated agencies throughout the course.

APPLICATION CRITERIA

- 1) Must be at least 18 years-old at the beginning of the course.
- 2) Must have high school diploma or G.E.D.
- 3) Currently certified EMT-Basic at time of starting the paramedic training.

APPLICATION DEADLINE

PARAMEDIC ADMISSIONS POLICIES AND PRACTICES

Technical Standards

Pelham Training has identified the following technical standards critical to the success of students.

- Utilize the sense of sight, hearing, touch, and smell to make judgments.
- Communicate effectively in English, both orally and in writing using appropriate grammar, spelling and vocabulary.
- Comprehend and promptly respond to auditory instructions or requests.
- Speak in a clear and comprehensive manner.
- Perform fine and gross motor skills with both hands.
- Stand, walk, climb, lift, bend and twist for extended periods of time.
- Think clearly and act calmly in stressful situations.
- Work cooperatively with other people.
- Adapt to ever-changing, unpredictable environments.

Students must meet these standards on admission to the Pelham Training Paramedic Program and maintain them throughout their training.

Policies of Advanced Placement and Experiential Learning

Students entering the Paramedic Training Program may receive credit for previously acquired clinical and health care provider training, experiential learning, and past employment. This is on a case by case basis and is at the sole discretion of the Clinical Coordinator and the Course Coordinator. Students with previous experience are encouraged to meet with the Course Coordinator to see if credit may be applied.

Transfer of Credits

In the accelerated format Pelham Training does not accept transfer of credit from other Paramedic Training Programs.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COURSE SCOPE

Paramedic Training is a monumental undertaking without mentioning the added rigors of accelerated coursework. Many EMS providers fail to understand the sheer magnitude of time, energy and resources required to complete this level of education. It is important that you realize much will be expected from you and that should you complete this training, it will likely be one of the proudest accomplishments of your life. In this program attitude and personality are extremely important. You will be dealing with many different people including the medical director, program director, instructors, nurses, physicians, lab technicians, EMT's, precepting paramedics, and of course, your fellow students. You will work alongside all of these people before interacting with the most important person – the patient. Your attitude and approach in dealing with these individuals is extremely important both during the time you are a student and after you complete this course. Your attitude and personality affects everyone with whom you interact. Please try always to be at your best and never act arrogant or superior to those around you. You will be representing not only yourself, but the program, your peers and the paramedic students that preceded and will follow you.

In medical care, everyone has their own particular role. Although one job may be more difficult than another that does not mean it is more important. It is the whole team working together which reaches the final goal. Your attitude and personality will be known to the program director and to others in the class fairly easily via your various contacts during the classroom and lab experiences and during your in-hospital and ambulance training time.

This course requires complete devotion of your time and attention for the entire duration of the course. You and those close to you must be prepared for this time commitment. As this is a demanding course, you can expect to be virtually unavailable to your family and for outside activities and responsibilities. You must have obtained your family support and understanding of the time you must devote to class, studying and the extensive time necessary to complete the internship requirements of the course.

This course is not designed to be a typical "college" course but is a training course. You will not be provided with copies of the instructor notes or PowerPoint slides. The instructors will expect you to attend every class on time and to maintain a positive "can do" attitude. You will find the coursework and clinical requirement to be exhausting and, at times, you will feel that you have more to learn than is possible.

Our group of instructors is dedicated to assuring that material presented does make sense and that, to the best of their ability, it has been presented in a manner suitable for learning no matter what your learning style might be.

I, _____ have read the above information, discussed it with my family and loved ones and understand that paramedic school is a huge commitment of my time and energy. Furthermore, I hereby affirm that I will do everything in my power to put forth my best effort to complete this program.

EMT / PARAMEDIC STUDENT CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

As a paramedic student, I agree:

- 1) I shall hold as absolutely confidential all information that I may obtain directly or indirectly concerning patients, doctors or personnel, and not seek to obtain confidential information from a patient.
- 2) To uphold the policies, procedures, philosophy and standards of care of Pelham Training, and its clinical affiliates.
- 3) I understand that all clinical sites reserve the right to terminate my clinical experiences as a result of:
 - a) Failure to comply with hospital or agency policies, rules and regulations
 - b) Absences or tardiness without prior notification
 - c) Unsatisfactory attitude, work or appearance
 - d) Any other circumstances which, in the sole judgment of the hospital or agency, would make my continued service as a student contrary to the best interests of the hospital or agency.

I, _____ have read each of the above conditions and I agree to be abide by them.
